BCNP Consultants GmbH (BCNP), is a widely recognized consulting company specialized in the four industry sectors Biotech (B), Chemistry (C), Nanotech (N) and Pharma (P).

All BCNP consultants have a science and technology background focusing on biology and chemistry. Each expert keeps in close contact with opinion leaders and decision makers in his particular area of competence: All counsellors regularly attend national and international scientific and industrial conferences and are members of scientific organisations and associations.

Based on our scientific expertise and our close collaboration with our clients, we successfully bridge knowledge and technologies to markets since 2002. The basis of our consulting services consists of our education in natural sciences, our specific industry knowledge, many years of experience and our stable networks.

BCNP, e.g., (1) assesses technologies in relation to competitors, (2) examines the feasibility of market introductions, (3) analyzes and optimizes marketing and sales processes, (4) supports in raising capital, (5) consults in growth and strategy processes and (6) recommends specific activities based on analyses of potentials.
